WHAT IS SPC?

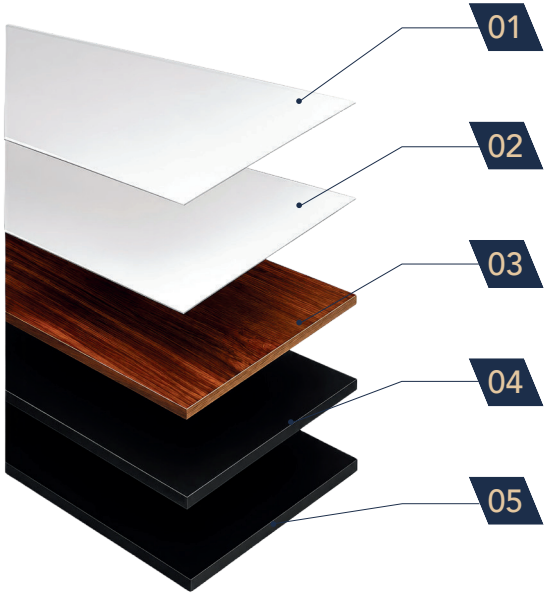

Product Overview

SPC flooring, or Stone Plastic Composite flooring, is a flooring material designed for floor installation and offers an alternative to ceramic tiles, timber flooring and natural stone.

SPC flooring is considered an advanced form of luxury vinyl flooring. Its rigid core is manufactured from virgin polymer materials, calcium carbonate (limestone) powder and stabilising additives under high temperature and pressure.

Although material compositions may vary between manufacturers, SPC flooring is widely valued for its durability, visual appeal and practical performance. It offers a modern flooring solution suitable for a wide range of residential and commercial applications.
